

STANDARD OIL HEAD ARRESTED BY QUIZ BODY

DEFIANCE TO TEAPOT DOME GROUP CAUSE

Chicagoan Held For Refusal To Talk To Committee

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Robert W. Stewart, one of the foremost oil executives of the country, was under arrest by the senate tonight because of his persistent defiance of its Teapot Dome committee.

He was not taken to jail, but permitted to remain in his quarters at the Willard hotel in the custody of a deputy sergeant-at-arms who is to take him before the bar of the senate at noon tomorrow unless he decides in the meantime to sue for a writ of habeas corpus.

While the chairman of the board of the Standard Oil company of Indiana declined to make any statement, it was said by his close associates that he probably would appear in the senate. In that event he would be directed to answer forthwith questions as to what if anything, he knows about disposition of Liberty bonds by the Continental Trading company of Canada, which has figured so prominently in the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy trial.

Should Stewart again refuse to do so, the senate would have open to it two courses—adoption of a resolution directing his imprisonment in a common jail or approval of one referring his case to the District of Columbia courts, as was done in the instance of Harry F. Sinclair, who is under a three months' sentence.

Follows Dramatic Day
The arrest of Stewart followed a day of dramatic events that swung from the committee room to the floor of the senate, and then to the Willard hotel. There was the anti-climax, however, for the senate warrant, bearing the signature of Vice-President Dawes, was served in the privacy of Stewart's room.

TWO IRISHMEN PLAN PROGRAMS TO AVOID MEETING IN GOTHAM

Cosgrave is Hissed And Cheered During Tour of Columbia U.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (AP)—President William T. Cosgrave of the Irish free state and Eamon De Valera, his political opponent, made plans today to avoid a meeting, although both came under the same roof.

President Cosgrave accepted an invitation to attend the Emerald ball at the Waldorf, where De Valera is staying, as one of his last acts before sailing on the Olympic to return to Ireland. He sails at 3:00 o'clock tomorrow morning.

De Valera said he was not invited to the ball and would not have gone if he had been invited. Both men, once close friends, said that there was no chance of a meeting between them.

During the day De Valera broke the silence he has maintained since he began his latest American tour last Dec. 21 and in an interview predicted the defeat of the Cosgrave government at some future general election, and the ultimate establishment of an Irish republic.

Mr. Cosgrave encountered a slight, unfriendly demonstration today when he was hissed by a small group of students while he was making a tour of Columbia university under the escort of President Nicholas Murray Butler. Some cheers were mingled with the hisses. Neither President Cosgrave nor Dr. Butler appeared disturbed by the incident.

DEFENSE ENDS SANITY TRIAL FOR HICKMAN

Prosecution Begins to Tear Down Testi- mony In Case

HALL OF JUSTICE, Los Angeles, Feb. 3 (AP)—William Edward Hickman made his last gesture today in presenting his insanity defense for the confessed killing of Marian Parker.

Hardly had Jerome Walsh, youthful counsel for the confessed kidnaper, slayer and mutilator of the school girl, finished the words which put an end to the defense in the sanity trial, than the state set in motion the agencies it had chosen to attempt to establish that Hickman was sane at the time the crime was committed, and send him to the gallows.

The closing phase of Hickman's defense was centered in the testimony of "alienists," one of whom withstood a withering crossfire from the prosecution but was unshaken in the opinion that the defendant is insane. The "dementia praecox" theory of Dr. R. O. Shelton, defense alienist, came in for a heavy battering from Prosecutor Asa Keyes.

A delusion of the prisoner that "divine guidance" prompted his crimes was the text of Dr. Shelton's testimony from which the alienist adduced abnormality amounting to insanity.

Handwriting Expert
The first moves by District Attorney Asa Keyes, when the last alienist summoned by the defense had left the stand, was more or less legal routine. He placed on the stand Clark Sellers, handwriting expert, and adduced testimony from him to show that ransom letters written by Perry M. Parker, deposing $1,500 for the return of his 12-year-old daughter were penned by Hickman. Sellers' testimony was to the effect that the handwriting on the ransom letters was the same as that in the confessions written by the defendant.

Walsh had already called witnesses whose testimony spread over the court records all the details of the crime and the state began what promised to be a long-drawn-out effort to break down the expert medical testimony of defense alienists. Two of whom declared their belief that Hickman was insane.

PAN AMERICANS IN PLENARY SESSION PRAISE RED CROSS

Vote Blanket Approval of Social Problems Report; Hughes Gives Talk

HAVANA, Feb. 3 (AP)—The sixth Pan-American conference in plenary session today voted a blanket proposal of the final report of the committee on social problems and approved in part recommendations of the committee on intellectual cooperation and economic problems.

Adoption of the Pan-American sanitary code, recommendations for cooperation of American states in extending the principles of eugenics and homoculture, and a recommendation that the American governments be urged to continue to cooperate in the establishment and development of the Red Cross throughout the American continent, were approved without dissent.

Approval of the report of the first Pan-American congress of journalists and recommendations for future congresses was voted.

Speaking for the cooperation of governments with the Red Cross, Charles Evans Hughes, chief of the United States delegation, gave eloquent expression to his admiration for the humanitarian work of the Red Cross.

Need Government Aid
"The Red Cross societies," declared Mr. Hughes, "are the ministers of angels of peace. They deserve our support, but they can not have that support merely by passing resolutions and endorsements of their work. To have effective support an appeal must be made to the public, so that they may lend all necessary aid. We must address ourselves in our respective communities to public opinion, so that the voluntary support of all our peoples may be obtained."

"We have in the United States many different opinions, we have partisan activities; we have to a large extent differences in regard to particular goals to which our efforts should be directed; but the Red Cross goes the unanimous sentiment of 120,000,000 people. I bespeak the same sentiment in all the 21 republics in this hemisphere."

Managua, Nic. Feb. 3 (AP)—Airplane returning from Nueva Segovia today reported having seen small unnamed bands of men in the region of El Chipote. They were thought to be laborers returning to the plantations.

MURDERER CONFESES TO THIRTEEN DEATHS

Huntsville, Tex., Feb. 3 (AP)—George J. Hassell, a laborer, today freely admitted the murders of 13 persons including that of a 21 year old stepson for which he is under sentence to be electrocuted a week from tonight.

Supplementing a confession made several months ago, Hassell declared that in June, 1917 he choked to death his first wife, Marie Vogel, her son, and their two foster children whom they adopted from an orphan asylum in Colorado. The four victims were killed at their Whittier, California home and buried by the lawyer, after which Hassell disappeared.

Hassell was unable to give a motive for his crimes. "Something came over me and I did it," he said.

HUGE LOSS IS ESTIMATED IN EASTERN CITY

Fall River Damage To Amount To Many Millions

FALL RIVER, Mass., Feb. 3 (AP)—For the second time in twelve years a large part of the business center of this city tonight was a waste of smoking ruins, the result of a disastrous fire which swept the area surrounding City Hall last night and early this morning. Taking toll of the losses before the embers were yet cool, residents estimated the property damage variously from $7,000,000 to more than $15,000,000. Insurance investigators placed the loss even higher, in some cases at $25,000,000.

The damage was even greater than that caused by the conflagration of February 16, 1916, which ravaged a similar section of the city. Items in the loss were: Twenty or more buildings destroyed and as many more damaged.

Approximately sixty stores and similar business establishments were destroyed or so badly damaged that they may be some time before they will operate at normal. Several thousand persons out of employment.

Offers of assistance in the work of rehabilitation reached the city today from many sources, including the Red Cross.

No one was able tonight to predict what the effect might be upon the industries and business activities of the community, although all admitted that there would be many concerns which probably would be unable to resume and others which would be seriously crippled.

Although streets in the center of the burned area remained impassable tonight, blocked by ice-coated piles of bricks, twisted steel and other debris, order was making its appearance in the confusion.

The cause of the fire remained undetermined tonight, although it was believed to have started in the boiler room of No. 2 mill of the Pocasset Manufacturing company. The flames were first seen there and then spread with lightning rapidity to two other mills of the plant and from them to nearby buildings.

BLAMES FRIENDS FOR $50,000 BANK THEFT

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (AP)—Blaming friends who he said had failed to return money he lent them, James H. Helatt of Milford, Kentucky, admitted today that he had stolen some $50,000 from the Milford National bank, where he was cashier. He asked for a speedy trial.

He was held without bail and said he would waive extradition. Police said that reports from Milford placed the theft at $75,000 but Helatt said he had not taken more than $50,000, more than half of which he took when he decided that he could not cover up his speculations and decided to run away.

Helatt disappeared from Milford, August 23, and since then has been constantly moving. "I've read of criminals who have stolen money and have been tortured by their consciences and I know that it is true," he said. "I couldn't sleep, I couldn't eat. I thought the police were always watching me. Even in the movies where I would go for darkness, I trembled in the stock market to receive my losses and I would have been successful, only I couldn't concentrate."

PORTO RICANS ASK LINDY TO URGE FREEDOM

Legislature Hears Of Commercial Flying Possibilities

SAN JUAN, PORTO RICO, Feb. 3 (AP)—The Porto Rican legislature, paying a glowing tribute to the brilliant achievements of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, today took the opportunity to entrust to him "a message from the people of Porto Rico to the people of the United States," making a plea for "freedom."

The message was entrusted to the American air hero at a special session of the legislature which bestowed a medal of honor upon him.

The colonel thanked the legislature for its cordial welcome, but made no reference to the message. Instead he made an address on commercial aviation saying that it would be easy to link the island of Porto Rico and the United States by air and that figuratively it would be done tomorrow.

Declaring that the flyer, on his epoch making trip to France, had been guided by the watchful spirits of those Americans who died upon the battlefields in the World war, the message said: "Welcome to our island, Colonel Lindbergh! Welcome to the only place under the shadow of Old Glory where the discoverer ever set foot. Welcome worthy son of the American Eagle! Welcome, Lone Eagle."

"The good wishes of Porto Rico will go with you to the land of the brave and the free, and to your country, and to your people and will convey a message of Porto Rico not far different from the cry of Patrick Henry—'Liberty or death.' It is the same in substance with but a difference imposed by the change of times and conditions."

"The message of Porto Rico to your people is, grant us the freedom that you enjoy, for which you struggled, which you worship, which we deserve and which you promised us. We ask the right to be placed in the sun of this land of ours, brightened by the stars of your glorious flag."

Tomorrow the American good will flyer again will take up his tour which is steadily carrying him closer to the Pan-American conference at Havana. Tomorrow's hop will be to Santo Domingo, just 250 miles across the Mona passage to the Dominican republic. Here he will remain until Feb. 6 when he will fly to Haiti and then on Feb. 8 to Havana.

INDIANS OBJECT TO ENGLISH OMISSION TO SELECT NATIVES

Bodyguard Needed to Aid Britishers on Indian Affairs Committee

BOMBAY, Feb. 3 (AP)—India's determination to boycott the Simon commission on Indian affairs as a protest against the British government's omission to appoint Indian representatives to the body took active form today from the moment of the arrival of the commission in this city. Heavily armed police guards had to be employed at the docks to protect the body's members from the unwelcome attention of demonstrators.

Viceroy Lord Irwin, addressing both houses of the Indian legislature last night, earnestly appealed to those concerned in the boycott movement to refrain from a course which he said, could have only negative results and which might entail unfortunate consequences.

This appeal, however, failed to avert serious demonstrations in Bombay, Madras, and Calcutta today when the "hartal," or mourning closure, was clamped down with all its force in all three places. The strike, for such the hartal was termed, was accompanied by rioting in Calcutta and Madras, and in the latter city conflict with the police in which one person was killed and as many as seventeen or more were wounded. Europeans returning to their homes there in automobiles were attacked and their cars smashed. There were no injuries reported among them, however.

S-S RADIO FAILED

Washington, Feb. 3 (AP)—Loss of contact with the submarine S-3 which brought in its wake early this week the fear that another submarine catastrophe had befallen the navy, was caused by the failure of the craft's radio transmitting apparatus.

The submarine became separated from the remainder of the control force while en route from Hampton Roads to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Unsigned Letter Is Ruled Out As Evidence

OTTAWA, Ill. Feb. 3 (PA)—An aged German gardener's shrill denial of guilt in connection with the death of his wealthy employer, Mrs. Eliza Hill, shot his mother on the basement stairway of her home and buried her body in the cellar, was passed, when Peter Busch stepped from the stand.

As energetic as a man of 30, the tall, gray-haired 73-year-old gardener held up bravely under the hammering of cross-examination. He detailed again the story of how young Harry had hired him to arrange the freshly upturned ground in the Hill basement and how the youth had told him Mrs. Hill was away on a visit.

"Sure I didn't kill her," he shouted several times at defense Counsel Arthur Shay.

LAGUARDIA DEMANDS PROBE OF EASTERN COAL STRIKE ZONE

Conditions Distressing, He Tells Senator in Message

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 3 (AP)—John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers of America, and a congressman—P. H. LaGuardia of New York—came to the Pittsburgh district today to observe conditions growing out of the mine strike in effect in the Pittsburgh district coal fields for 10 months. At the same time the school at Broughton, a mining town, was closed by school officials, who charged that non-union miners entered the town yesterday, fired at the school house and terrorized miners.

President Lewis, discussing the senatorial investigation of the strike proposed by Senator Johnson of California said such an inquiry "means more than is appreciated by the public."

LaGuardia who spent the day touring the mining camps declared tonight in a telegram to Senator Johnson that the "brutality of private police of the mine owners and utter disregard of law is shocking and amazing." He urged that Senator Johnson press his resolution to a vote, declaring that "an investigation should commence at once."

"I have just made my first tour of the mining district and have interviewed several people," he said in the telegram. "I have never witnessed such distressing conditions, misery, suffering and humiliation of strikers and their families. It is beyond description. The poor unhappy and miserable strikebreakers are veritable prisoners, they are not only clothed by and being debauched and deprived by their employers."

MORALS SQUAD RAIDS MILWAUKEE MEETING

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 3 (AP)—Nearly 200 men and six women, scantily clad, were apprehended by police here shortly after midnight at the Builders club, where members of the Master Builders association of Wisconsin were winding up their state convention with a stag party.

The raid was carried on under direction of the morals squad of the police department.

When more than a score of officers had surrounded the building, detectives smashed their way into the main hall where the women entertainers were dancing. The first detective to enter the room was met with a volley of blows, but was rescued by fellow officers who followed him in. Several men jumped from second story windows and fled, only to be recaptured by officers stationed outside.

HOPES TO HOP OFF IN MOONLIGHT FOR SOUTH

Miami, Fla., Feb. 3 (AP)—Lieut. George H. Towner depended on a brilliant moon in the early hours of tomorrow morning to give him an early start on his projected non-stop flight to Managua, Nicaragua. He planned a take off between 4 and 5 o'clock.

Captain Joseph P. Donnellan, en route from Chicago to Santiago, Chile, on a good will tour in a small commercial plane, hopped here this afternoon from Jacksonville and said that he would confer with Towner tonight on the possibility of taking off at the same time, so that they might fly together as far as Havana.

HOOVER TO BECOME CANDIDATE IN OHIO PREFERENTIAL RACE

Willis Also Declares He Will File Petition For Presidency

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—The candidacy of Secretary Hoover for the Republican presidential nomination in the Ohio preferential primary was thrust forward today by Representative Burton, of Ohio, and the challenge for a contest in that state was immediately accepted by Senator Willis, of Ohio, who announced his candidacy some time ago.

Coming on the heels of a series of conferences between the friends of Secretary Hoover and Senator Willis seeking an agreement to avoid a fight in Ohio, the declaration of Mr. Burton tonight was regarded as an answer to the parleys.

Although Secretary Hoover maintained his silence about his candidacy tonight the declaration of Mr. Burton will force an early showdown. The Ohio man asked that Mr. Hoover be a candidate. To enter the Ohio primary a candidate must signify his willingness in writing the filing lists close on February 24.

"I have made a careful survey of Republican preferences in the state of Ohio," Mr. Burton said in a formal statement, "and as a result conclude that the dominant sentiment is for Mr. Hoover."

Answers Bentley
The declaration of Mr. Burton was heralded quickly over the capital where the conferences of the Hoover-Willis forces have been in progress and the answer of Senator Willis was issued within an hour and in blunt words.

"This contest will be no kid glove or powder puff affair," declared the Ohio senator in his statement. "In perfect good nature, the issue will be submitted to the Republicans of Ohio and they will be given the opportunity to say whether they believe in the policy of giving an Ohio candidate a fair chance or whether they will take the view that Ohio's political prestige shall be put into the hands of those uninterested in the welfare of Ohio Republicans."

The promise of another battle-ground followed announcement earlier in the day from Columbus that the Republican state central committee had endorsed the candidacy of Senator Willis by a vote of 19 to 1.

WANTS MORE CONTROL OVER CHAIN STATIONS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Greater control over chain radio broadcasting, was urged today by Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington, at a hearing before the senate interstate commerce committee on the nomination of O. H. Caldwell of New York, as a member of the commission.

Senator Dill, a co-author of the radio bill under which the commission was established, complained that by the hookups on chain broadcasting the powerful stations were able to control most of the desired channels during the best hours of the day. Mr. Caldwell replied the commission intended to investigate this. The senator said he was ready to ask for additional legislation if needed.

RHODE ISLAND HEAD ILL

Woonsocket, R. I., Feb. 3 (AP)—Gov. Aram J. Pothier, of Rhode Island, is seriously ill at his home here as a result of a shock with which he was stricken tonight, according to a bulletin issued by his physicians following a consultation. He was reported as being unconscious following the consultation. He is in his seventy-fourth year.

OPENS WAY TO APRIL 7 VOTE; THREE SILENT

Four Court Members Sign Decision Hand- ed Down

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 3 (AP)—Illinois still has an April primary law. The state supreme court today upheld the constitutionality of the 1927 primary act calling for the April election and virtually cleared the path for a state wide primary on April 7 after a special session of the state legislature had been spent three full weeks trying to seek a way out of the election maze.

The ruling of the supreme court was announced late today after the court had been called into a special session of its own to consider the 1927 primary act, previously declared unconstitutional by the Cook county (Chicago) judge.

The action apparently swept aside all obstacles in the way of the April primary and cleared the slate for the filing of the first primary petitions tomorrow. However, one impediment still looms in the form of an injunction issued in Cook county barring the secretary of state from receiving petitions. Although Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom is of the opinion that the action of the supreme court automatically dissolves the injunction, he will ask the supreme court, in regular session next Tuesday, to dissolve the order.

The supreme court ruling was announced by Chief Justice Heard, and signed by himself and three other justices, Stone, Dunlap and De Young. The others did not sign it, but whetted (Continued On Page Two)

ASK JAIL SENTENCE FOR SINCLAIR AND BURNS IN INQUIRY

Declares That Detectives Were Oil Operator's Representatives

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Demanding prison sentences for Harry F. Sinclair, William J. Burns, W. Sherman Burns and Henry Mason Day for their part in the surveillance of the Fall-Sinclair oil trial jury, the government today opened its opposition to the defense motion to dismiss the contempt charges standing against them. The prosecution at the same time indicated it would not oppose dismissal of similar charges against Sheldon Clark, Chicago oil operator and C. L. Veitsch, Burns' Baltimore manager.

James J. O'Leary, assistant district attorney declared the government had proved every charge it had made against the wealthy oil man, Day, Burns and his son. He cited testimony that Frank J. O'Reilly, a Burns detective had gone to the home of Edward J. Kidwell, Jr., a juror.

"What O'Reilly did in the eyes of the law, Harry F. Sinclair did," the prosecutor argued.

"When O'Reilly went to the home of the juror, we had Harry F. Sinclair in that home."

Near the end of the day George P. Hoover, counsel for Sinclair caused a stir when he demanded that the court instruct O'Leary to discontinue his line of argument, terming it "highly objectionable supposition." Justice Sides over-ruled the objection. The court recessed until Monday.

ANNOUNCE DATES FOR STATE SHORT COURSES

URBANA, Ill., Feb. 3 (AP)—Scheduling of two important meetings at the University of Illinois in February and the termination of another were completed by the colleges of agriculture and engineering today.

Prof. C. C. Wiley of the college of engineering announced the annual highway short course of the department of civil engineering for Feb. 21-24. On Feb. 13 and 14 and the college of agriculture will sponsor the ninth annual convention of the state veterinarians. Approximately 800 are expected to attend.

The three-day dairy manufacturers course ended today. The annual short course attracted nearly 50 men, twice that of 1927. One of the most outstanding problems facing the veterinarians will be the stamping out of rabies. Dr. Frank Graham, chief of animal pathology and hygiene, said in announcing the conference.

PANAMA CANAL

Much recent discussion of the Panama Canal has centered about the waterway's capacity and the Nicaragua Canal would have to be built soon to take care of the traffic. Those who talk in this way must have overlooked facts submitted last fall to the American Society of Engineers by John F. Stephens. He is the distinguished engineer who presided over the canal on the Panama Canal job, and organized the excavation work there.

He gives illuminating comparative statistics. The Panama Canal has just about the same facilities as the Soo Canal, between Lake Superior and Lake Huron, which carries the greatest tonnage in the world.

The Soo Canal passed, in 1926, an average of 60 vessels a day. It is ice-bound four months a year. If it could work 12 months a year, it would pass 720 vessels, or about 134,000,000 tons.

The Panama Canal in the same year, which was a busy and prosperous year, passed only 26,836,000 tons. Apparently it could handle four or five times that much.

The greatest number of transits at Panama in one month was in March of last year, when it passed 611 ships. That, says Mr. Stephens, is not over 40 percent of its capacity, operating only by day.

The capacity can be increased at any time, he points out, by operating day and night, by adding a third set of locks, to the present set, and perhaps building a new reservoir for water supply. The Panama Canal, he concludes, should serve our purposes adequately for 50 years more. That may cause many minds about the need of spending another huge sum right away for canal facilities in Nicaragua.

an April primary and in all probability the advocates of the September plan would have won out. The action of the Supreme court settles the question.

Those who object to an April primary maintain that candidates are put to unnecessary strain and expense by the long period between the primary and the November election. However, there is the sound argument that the months intervening between an April primary and a November election afford time to wipe out much of the ill-feeling certain to follow a spirited primary contest.

The majority of people favor the primary system of selecting candidates and will feel that the Supreme court finding is in the public interest.

AERONAUTICS IN SCHOOLS

Shall aeronautics be added to the list of studies already taught in elementary and secondary schools? A committee of the Daniel Guggenheim Fund for the Promotion of Aeronautics is studying that question and consulting educators as to their opinion. It is said that very little opposition to the idea has been expressed.

The public schools are scarcely the place to teach flying. An elaborate course in aeronautics that crowded out basic subjects like the three R's or the elements of science might be interesting enough, but it would not further the average child's real education. Yet it is hard to see how a thorough course in physics or mechanics could omit entirely all mention of airplanes and the principles applied in their construction and use.

LECTURES ON SABBATH

"Jesus said 'When the Son of Man cometh shall He find faith on the earth?'" He referred to faith in a living God, the Creator of the world and of man also meaning faith in the heart and not the outward sham that so many will have. The Evolutionist would turn us from God and the sign of His creative power, the Sabbath-day Sabbath. It is perplexing to the thoughtful mind that practically the whole world keeps the first day of the week when the Bible specifically points out the seventh day so spoke Evangelist H. E. Bise in his discussion "Why do we keep Sunday?" given in the hall at 212 S. Main St.

The Sabbath is a settled fact for it marks the birthday of the world. When God ended all of His work He rested on the seventh day and blessed and sanctified or set it apart. Birthdays cannot be changed so the Sabbath day is still the memorial of creation whether anybody keeps the day or not. Jesus and His apostles never honored any other day but the seventh day, said Mr. Bise in conclusion also stated that this was the first of three lectures on the Sabbath question announcing the subject for Sunday night, "Is Sunday the Lord's day?"

CROSS-CURRENTS

There aren't so many cross-currents at 50 as there are at 20. The boy in college gets easily confused about the loomings of life. But the man who has long traveled the route of the years, picks out roads and is surer of destinations. In the same way as he is surer in his selections of friends.

The old sea captain sticks to his wheel with confidence when the winds howl and the mad night catches its madest in his face. He smiles at danger and blows his way into the calm—because he knows that the calm will come and that he is master while the cross-currents have their hour.

One who has bored his way into life with any sort of superior courage and purpose, learning, sooner or later, that much of life is just sitting tight!

How many there are who have lost control when steadiness was all that they needed to carry them through.

It is better to work through than to smile through, for no matter how valuable a habit it may be, smiling must be backed up.

I am reminded of the story of the shipwreck where a boat load of men were cast upon the open sea. Fear crept up to the sides of the boat. Things looked dark. A big chap suggested they pray, but a very wise member of the group offered a better solution—that the big ones pull the oars for all they were worth and leave the praying to the little fellow in the boat.

When the cross-currents get their heads together, it means trouble for the weak man, but growth and victory for the strong.

Opposition is nothing to worry about. It's something to think over.

In business the keener the competition, the more each man studies the needs of his clients, and the harder he works to make his product the best.

Expect the cross-currents, but go right on, just the same, as though they were not there.

STANDARD OIL

HEAD ARRESTED BY QUIZ BODY

Action by the senate itself came with startling swiftness. As the shades of evening were enveloping the capitol, Senator Walsh appeared suddenly after a brief absence all day and within a few minutes was able to obtain recognition.

"I ask unanimous consent to submit a report from the committee on public lands," he said. "Is there objection?" the vice-president inquired sharply.

A dead silence was the answer. "I send to the desk the report and ask the clerk to read," said Walsh, who was sitting near Chairman Nye, of the committee, on the Republican side, far from his accustomed place.

The report was a four page typewritten document, setting forth Stewart's refusal to answer questions before the committee today and yesterday. As the clerk read, most of the senators gave close attention though one here was reading a newspaper and another there signing correspondence.

No Objection. Walsh held the floor. As the reading ended Senator Smoot, of Utah, was on his feet holding in his hand an amendment to the reading interior department appropriation bill. A page stood nearby.

The Montanan was unperturbed. He asked that a typographical correction be made at one place in the report and that was done with some delay.

"Now I send to the desk a resolution and ask that it be read," Senator Smoot sat down as the clerk intoned the language of the measure directing the immediate arrest of Stewart.

"Now I ask unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution," the Montanan said.

"Is there objection?" again demanded Vice President Daves. Again silence.

"Without objection the resolution is agreed to," Mr. Daves announced. The senate sat as though stunned. There was a sudden rush of reporters from the press gallery to telephones and wires. That alone broke the silence and at its height one senator looked up and smilingly called for "order."

A prepared copy of the warrant was handed up to the vice-president who signed it. Then a bank clerk handed it to David S. Barry, sergeant-at-arms, who immediately left the chamber and in the company of a deputy, John McGrath, left at once for the Willard hotel.

Locks Door. A group of newspaper men followed to the eighth floor and swarmed outside Stewart's suite. Barry and McGrath knocked and entered, one of them turning the key in the lock behind them.

A few minutes later, Barry emerged and announced that the Chicago oil operator had been "nice and agreeable" and had said that he would place himself in the sergeant-at-arms' hands and "make no trouble."

The Standard Oil magnate also was rather calm and cool during his second day on the witness stand, but at times he showed flares of temper and time and again told the several senators who questioned him he did not intend to "argue" with them.

SUPREME COURT

UPHOLDS APRIL PRIMARY LAW

It clarified an apparently hopeful controversy into which the special session of the legislature had fallen in its divided stand over a full or spring election.

The special session of the legislature had been called by Governor Len Small three weeks ago after the supreme court had adjourned its December session without ruling on the case which had been appealed from the lower court by Attorney General Carlstrom.

The case was entitled Kramer vs. Keel, wherein mandamus petition to compel the county clerk of Marion county to prepare for the April primaries was granted.

In upholding the constitutionality of the primary act, the supreme court opinion said:

"It seems clear that the organization of political parties is a necessary part of the scheme to accomplish the nomination of candidates and so closely allied with it as to be germane to the principle purpose expressed in the title."

The court also held with Attorney General Carlstrom in that while one section of the act providing for registration in Chicago was inconsistent with another section the inconsistency did not effect the act's constitutionality.

"The result is," the court said, "to limit registration and therefore the necessity for such registration on the part of primary voters in cities having less than 200,000 population."

The court also knocked out the section providing for the nomination of candidates for aldermen in those cities which have adopted an act in relation to minority registration. The court said: "We are of the opinion that the effect of the invalidity of this section is to remove the cumulative voting feature in primary elections, and the method of determining the number of candidates in such cities as described by the primary act. No reason appears why a nomination for alderman may not be made under the general provision of the primary act, and the number of candidates determined without reference to that. This being so, the inequality complained of does not exist."

Subsequent to the upholding of the 1927 act, Clarence Buck, manager of the presidential campaign in behalf of former Governor Frank O. Lowden, said the Lowden backers intended to file his petition tomorrow placing his name before the people of the state as a presidential candidate. Mr. Buck said it was his opinion that the action of the supreme court today would nullify the injunction against filing petitions.

Among nearly 7,000 soldiers, the flower of the empire's forces, were the Prince of Wales, Duke of York and Prince Henry representing different arms of the service.

J. H. S. Defeats Springfield; Routt, Tigers Win

Crimsons Wallop Reds 30-22; Play Peoria 5 Tonight

Jacksonville high school basketball team last night made its thirty points, and also made it two basketball victories over Springfield this season. Springfield's fourteenth defeat and also demonstrated that the team have improved in the floor work. After the first half, in which the Peoria team scored most of the points, Jacksonville sharpshooters easily had the best of it over the Capital City Reds. The local second team lost to Springfield seconds 12 to 11.

Coach John Mitchell will take his squad of Crimson players to Peoria tonight to meet Peoria in another Big Twelve contest. The Mitchell crew now has won three and lost two in the conference.

The Jacksonville high school band, attired in brand new uniforms, made their first appearance in the gymnasium last night and was greeted with several rounds of applause.

The Mitchellmen were out for victory last night, and when they had it in their hands, they clinched it, then choked it and finally forced it to become theirs without much effort. But they were not sure of anything like victory during the first quarter, which thrilled the fans from beginning to end. The opening period was a scoring match between the Crimsons and Claus, the Springfield center.

Jacksonville drew the first blood, McLaughlin dropping the ball thru the mesh first from near the basket. Claus countered with one just about like it, and then Ledford counted from the field. Claus continued to try to carry the game on his own shoulders, scoring the next basket for Springfield, and incidentally tying the score. Beely made the next basket from the field and Goldsby counted for the Reds from the free throw line, the period ending 5 to 5.

The second period opened as it would be a duplication of the first, McLaughlin scoring from the field and Claus slapping back with a field basket. But from then on it was all Jacksonville, at least until the final quarter when the regulars were inserted into the game and removed about every two minutes. Coach Mitchell feeling that the game was on ice and attempting to rest his first string as much as possible. The first half ended 19 to 11, and the second period closed at 28 to 15. Jacksonville made but one field basket in the final period, but they reached their thirty points.

And Jacksonville didn't hit the basket last night. Their shooting was far below the form that they have shown in other games this year. Several times the Crimsons carried the ball down to the basket, but failed to register easy hits.

Springfield didn't get much opportunity to shoot at the basket from a distance which could be considered close so determined the fighting done by Andy Rogers. Rogers refused to pull away from his position and kept the Red forwards from getting the ball on follow up shots. Schilling and Beely showed that they have been working during the past week, and McLaughlin fed the ball away from the crimson basket to them in order to get unobstructed shots better than has been the case.

The game was uneven, as Coach Roy Wentz, of Springfield, explained it to Coach Mitchell, because Mitchell had two men who could hit the basket and he had but one. Claus scored fifteen of the Red points, and played a good floor game along with his scoring.

WATROUS WINS BEST BALL IN TEXAS OPEN

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 3. (AP)—Setting a scorching pace against the golfers who will compete in the Texas open tomorrow, Al Watrous, Grand Rapids, Mich., professional, paired with Lamar Seelgison of San Antonio, today won an amateur-pro best ball team match with a brilliant 65, six under par.

Watrous bore most of the burden in annexing the laurels, altho Seelgison, comparatively an unknown, won three holes to aid in the team play against a big field. The most sparkling bit of golf of the day came on the final hole when Watrous holed a 150 yard approach to clinch first place and nose out the almost certain winners, Larry Nabholz of Cleveland, and Dupre Dance of San Antonio.

The victors were among the last of the contestants to start and most of the spectators had gone home, believing Nabholz had gone home in the winning score. Nabholz and Dupre were second with 69 and three teams scored 70's to tie for third.

LOMSKI HALTS MIKE M'TIGUE'S COMEBACK

YOUTH WHIPS 40-Year-Old Man in Battle of Many Punches in New York by Winning Decision—Falls to K. O. Mike.

(By Edward J. Neil)

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (AP)—The comeback cruise of Michael McTigue, perennial challenger and sometimes champion in the light-heavyweight division, was halted tonight by the youthful Leo Lomski, iron-fisted blonde slugger from Aberdeen, Wash.

For 10 rounds, the tireless punching youngster threw everything he had at McTigue in an effort to bring the ancient of the division back to the ring. The veteran was ambled, skidded, danced and parried, and although blood streamed from gashes above his eyes and his legs were stiff as stilts, Mike was still on his feet and fighting gamely at the final gong.

It was a battle of youth, confidence, and old age, easily tired and heart of almost everything, but the canny fighting brain that made Mike's eyes open in the fifth round, he could not floor him, and Lomski himself ran into one stiff left hook that ripped his right eyebrow.

From the start, the corn-haired youngster threw himself into the fray recklessly, flailing away in a steady stream at McTigue's head and body. Mike blocked and retreated, fended and ducked, and saved the right hand that bowled over a dozen opponents until the fifth round.

Then as the storm became unbearable, Mike threw away his caution and loosed his full punching power on the flailing youngster. One vicious chop cut Lomski's eye in the fifth, but both McTigue's eyes were gashed in the exchange and Leo refused to retreat.

From that point on, each round added to the venerable one's discomfort. Carrying an added burden of nearly 40 years, Mike was punch-drunken at the close of the seventh and eighth sessions, staggering when the ninth was over, and barely navigating, although still struggling through the motions, when the match was over.

McTigue had a slight advantage in his weight, feeling 175 pounds, but Lomski's power was

Navy Will Meet Princeton Nov. 24, Says Nulton

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 3. (AP)—Hope for an Army-Navy game this year was thrown down suddenly into the discard tonight with the announcement by Rear Admiral Louis M. Nulton, superintendent of the Naval Academy that Navy will play Princeton on Nov. 24, at Philadelphia.

This date formerly had been set as the occasion for the annual gridiron classic between the two service schools, but because of the question of eligibility of players on West Point's team had met with opposition from naval officials, athletic relationships had been severed.

Princeton has accepted the invitation of the Navy to play the game at Philadelphia next fall, Admiral Nulton's statement said, and in addition the two institutions have entered into a three year contract.

The game at Philadelphia this year has definitely eliminated Army from Navy's schedule, but in 1929 and 1930, the contract calls for games to be played late in October.

This was generally conceded to indicate that Navy was willing to resume athletic relationships with the Military Academy if West Point authorities agree to a three year eligibility clause which limits the number of years of competition students may participate in varsity sports.

WINCHESTER DEFEATS MURRAYVILLE 15-12

Winchester, Ill., Feb. 3.—Winchester defeated Murrayville last night for the first time in several years, when they came out on the long end of a basketball game 15 to 12. Winchester meets another old rival, Springfield, Saturday night.

Winchester played a better game than Murrayville throughout making six field baskets to three for the visitors. Poor passing marred the game, but both teams played a good guarding game. Murrayville shooting was decidedly off color, the Morgan county boys shots going wild. At free throwing however, Murrayville excelled.

The score at the end of the quarter was Winchester six and Murrayville four. At the half Winchester was still leading 11 to 5, and at the third quarter way it stood 13 to 9 for Winchester.

TWO BIG TEN BASKET TILTS FOR SATURDAY

CHICAGO, Feb. 3. (AP)—With semester examinations over, the Big Ten basketball will enter the home stretch tomorrow night when Michigan plays at Chicago and Ohio State meets Minnesota at Indianapolis.

Indiana will also take the floor, meeting Kentucky State in a non-conference tilt at Bloomington. The Michigan-Chicago game is attracting much speculation and attention as the Wolverines must win to remain in the titular race. Both teams have won their last game and a hard game is anticipated. The Maize and Blue colors have displayed a strong offensive game while Chicago sports one of the best defensive fives in the conference.

Little importance is attached to the Ohio State-Minnesota game as far as the Big Ten standings are concerned, but it has lost three games out of four starts and is considered out of the race. The game will dedicate Minnesota's new field house, which seats 14,000 fans. It is rated as one of the best in the country.

An exhibition game between two Indiana yearling teams is causing more interest in the Kentucky-Indiana contest. One of the teams will play under President Big Ten regulations while the other will use the one-time one-dribble system which is being proposed for use in Big Ten play.

Purdue conference leaders, will be idle until a week from tomorrow night when it plays Michigan at Ann Arbor in one of the most important games in the conference.

PURPLE STAR INELIGIBLE
Evanston, Ill., Feb. 4. (AP)—Another Northwestern University track star has joined the ineligible list and will be barred from the spring meets. He is Arnold "Kit" Karsten, who was one of Northwestern's best shot putters.

Leland "Tiny" Lewis, football and track star, was ruled ineligible yesterday.

Walter Robinson, of the Berea neighborhood was a business visitor here yesterday.

Routt Five Defeats Franklin 28 To 12

Franklin, Feb. 3. (Special)—Routt Academy's hurrying hoopers from Jacksonville defeated Franklin here tonight in easy style, outclassing Franklin by a 28 to 12 count. There was never any doubt in the minds of the large crowd which thronged out to see the game which team was going to win.

Routt plays Versailles high on the Liberty Hall floor Saturday night.

Lavery again led the scoring for Routt, gaining fourteen points. Williamson was the high point man for Franklin with five points.

Routt started out like a whirlwind and at the end of the first quarter were out in front 14 to 4. They slackened their pace in the second period and wound up in front at the end of the half with an 18 to 7 lead.

If their pace had been slow in the second period, it became almost stalled in the third session, as the Routt team scored but two points. Franklin was unable to score during the session which ended 20 to 7. Realizing that it wouldn't be long until the game was over, both teams put on a spurt in the final session, Routt again leading the scoring.

Routt used a different line-up than has appeared heretofore and it seemed to show considerable promise. Schirz has been put in at forward and Muskatroyd shifted to running guard to make up for the space left vacant by R. Cooney, who failed to satisfy his instructors in the recent series of examinations. Coach Sandon will probably use the same line-up in the game against Versailles Saturday night.

in a rough and tumble battle to open the tournament, 22 to 15. Twenty seven fouls were called during the game and four players were forced out via the personal foul route. Greenfield took the lead at the end of the first quarter after Patterson had knotted the count, 3 to 1, and at the end of the half were out in front 10 to 5, most of the points for both teams being made from the free throw line. Greenfield still led at the end of the third quarter, 14 to 10.

White Hall showed its power in the opening game by defeating Elmhurst 29 to 13. Coach Bayliss' men put up a neat band of floor work to pile up the total, scoring end-to-end at will. The regulars played but little of the game, and when they did, it was mostly to attempt to make baskets, but merely tossed the ball around. White Hall took a 17 to 3 lead at the end of the first quarter and a 28 to 4 lead at the end of the half.

Kane kicked over the dope basket by slamming Rockbridge 20 to 17. Kane getting an 8 to 3 lead at the end of the first half. With all the men on the team contributing to the score, the Kane quiet was too much for the Rockbridge five.

Two tight games marked the evening session last night. Rockbridge, out Greenfield, in overtime periods 24 to 22 and Carrollton pulling a game out of the fire in the last 15 seconds to win over Hillview 24 to 23.

White Hall is favored to win the tournament, due to their excellent showing this afternoon. Greenfield took the lead in the first quarter, which ended 6 to 1, and held it at the end of the first half 16 to 9. The third quarter found the score standing at 18 to 14 and when the regular playing time elapsed, the score was 20 to 14. Another three minutes found the count and when all but 20 seconds of the second overtime period had elapsed, Rockbridge scored twice from the free throw line, nosing out Greenfield. Rockbridge was without the services of Mackey, who is on the injured list with a broken elbow, and Wilkerson, who is retained at home. The team who featured the Greenfield team last year at the district tournament, became ineligible for further competition at the beginning of the second semester.

Abbott's accurate toss in the final 15 seconds of the Carrollton game with Hillview is all that kept Carrollton in the tournament. For Hillview had led the big parade of points through the struggle which was one of the fastest and hardest fought of the tournament. Hillview led 13 to 8 at the end of the first period and 19 to 13 at the end of the half. At the end of the third period Hillview led the lead at 20 to 18, and until the final moments were leading 23 to 22. Abbott's shot pulled Carrollton thru to the semi-final round.

U. S.-MEXICO TO MEET
IN DAVIS CUP MATCH

President of France Makes Drawings Matching Nations for Zone Play—Winner to Face China in Second Round.

PARIS, Feb. 3. (AP)—Mexico will be the first obstacle to be hurdled by tennis stars of the United States in their campaign to recover the Davis Cup, created from America's France last year.

The draw in the American zone made at Elvée Palace by President Doumergue today, pits the United States against Mexico and Japan against China in the first round.

Drawing a bye in the initial round, China will face the winner of the Mexico-France matches while Canada also drawing a bye, engages the survivor of the other first round encounter.

On the basis of their 1927 form, Japan and the United States are regarded as virtual favorites to clash in the final of the zone competition.

The main strength in the European zone is in the upper half where the luck of the draw brings together two of the strongest challengers in the first round—Australia and Italy.

Diplomats representing the redoubtable 11 of thirty-three nations entered in the competition—eight more than the previous high water mark—were assembled at the palace when President Doumergue drew out the first slip from the Davis cup itself.

"This is the first time any president of France has been called upon to perform a similar duty," commented Pierre Giffon, non-playing captain of the team which brought the trophy to France in 1927.

"But we tennis fans hope it won't be the last time."

ADOPT NATIONAL LOOP
OPENING DATES CARD

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (AP)—The 1928 National League playing schedule was formally adopted by the club owners in session here today, the baseball season to open on April 11 and close on September 30.

The campaign gets under way with Philadelphia at Brooklyn, Boston at New York, Chicago at Cincinnati and Pittsburgh at St. Louis. Last year the season began on April 12 and closed on October 2.

Proposed agreements with minor leagues providing for increased allowances in the drafting of players together with a 10-cent clause relating to umpires were withdrawn due to the failure of the minors to ratify these subjects.

The National League had submitted a new scale increasing draft prices on players some time ago which for a class A club raised the maximum from $5,000 to $7,500 per player and so on in proportion to the club rating. As the minors did not take action, the club owners voted to discard the proposals.

EX-MAJOR LEAGUER TO UMPIRE IN NATIONAL

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (AP)—Shorrock Moore, aggressive and shagging outfielder of twenty years ago, returns to the major leagues next summer—as an umpire.

John Heydler, president of the National League, announced Moore's appointment at the league's annual midwinter meeting here today.

Born at Charlestown, Pa., in 1881, Moore played his first professional baseball at Allentown, Pa., in 1903. A year later he joined the Philadelphia Nationals, beginning a major league career that did not terminate until 1919. He led the league in batting in 1910 and was runner-up the following year.

Moore's appointment brings two new umpires into the National League next summer. The other is Albert D. (Dolly) Stark, recruited by President Heydler from the Eastern League. Stark, at 30 years of age, will be the youngest umpire in the major leagues.

Most of Stark's professional career has been spent in college circles. He was basketball coach at Dartmouth for four years and umpired many of the more important college baseball games.

MICHIGAN STATE IS WINNER OVER IRISH

EAST LANSING, Mich., Feb. 3. (AP)—The fighting Irish of Notre Dame, resorting to frequent substitutions were unable to overcome the lead piled up by the Michigan State basketball team when they were defeated 26 to 16 here tonight.

Rosso, diminutive Michigan State guard, playing his first game, tied the score at five all in the first half and a moment later put his team in the lead, which Michigan State maintained from then on.

Notre Dame was forced to resort to long shots because of the strong defense of the local team.

LITTLE EGYPT TOURNEY
Carbondale, Ill., Feb. 3. (AP)—The semi-final in the Southern Illinois high school invitational tournament will be played tomorrow afternoon between Elkhart and West Frankfort, and Benton and Carverville, the survivors of tonight's games.

At night the finals will be played, preceded by a game between Elkhart and Benton. The semi-final for third and fourth place, Port Clinton versus Benton, will follow. Elkhart won from Hurst-Busch 26 to 15, West Frankfort trimmed Carbondale 22 to 6, while Benton beat Elkhart 17 to 11. Carbondale won from Herrin 24 to 12.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

COLLEGIANS TO PLAY
SHURTLEFF TONIGHT

Coach Fred Diwocky and his squad of Illinois College basketball players will leave this noon for Upper Allen where the team will meet Shurtleff college basketball team in a game tonight.

The Hilltoppers have been handicapped by examinations all week and have not been able to get in many practices, but they should be strong enough to bump off the Hilltoppers tonight.

Chickadantz, Washington, Ind., youth, probably will get a chance to show his wares in tonight's game, for he has been going thru the floor plays of the Hilltoppers for the past week and last night was moved in the position formerly played by Bob Schuster. Schuster was transferred to the position formerly played by Bunch and Bunch was sent to Miller's corner position.

Miller is on the sick list at present, but may make the trip to Allen today and may be drafted for service if Coach Diwocky feels that the team is not going at top speed.

Newkirk, Hopper, Lander, Gehring, Frazen, Conrady, and Manager Neiman will make up the remainder of the group taking the trip.

STUDENT COUNCIL
PROMOTES SCHOOL
GOVERNMENT WORK

Perhaps not many people of Jacksonville know about the Student Council of the Jacksonville High School. The Council is a body formed for the purpose of promoting student government, and it is in a way the head of that government.

The objects of the Student Council are to encourage high standards of scholarship and social life among the students, to coordinate student activities, to develop unity and sense of responsibility among the students, to cooperate and to encourage the students to cooperate with the principal and faculty, and to reflect and consider the opinions of the students.

Each class is represented by its president and three members elected annually, and a faculty advisor elected by the Council. The representatives for this year are: Troy Chapin, Mary Frances Scott, Burnette Bunch, Catherine Goebel, John Wright, Mary Jane Moore, John White, Betty Raub, Andrew Rogers, Dorothy Viera, Luman Goheen, Elizabeth Baker, Donald Lacey, Helen Wright, Robert Hartmann and Esther Dumas. Miss Leonhard is the faculty advisor and Troy Chapin is the president. Other officers are: Catherine Goebel, vice-president, Burnette Bunch, treasurer, and Betty Raub, secretary.

The Student Council has done some really beneficial things for the school. During the first semester, the cafeteria line was made more orderly. Action has been taken regarding the marking of parking spaces on the west side of the school, and this is to be done when the weather will permit. Just recently the honor point system has been revised and made more definite. A standing committee provides for the pep meetings before the athletic events.

However, the biggest thing which the Student Council has done is in preparing a Guide Book, which is, as its name suggests, a book to guide newcomers to the school. The material has not gone to the press as yet but will be published in the near future.

MID-YEAR FRESHMAN TO WORK IN LIBRARY

The second semester and mid-year Freshmen will start their library work under the instruction of Miss Havenhill Tuesday of next week and continue until Wednesday of the following week.

Tuesday and Wednesday of the first week, the second semester Freshmen will meet in the library rooms. On the following Tuesday and Wednesday, the mid-year Freshmen will do the same.

These classes will be taught the use of the dictionary, encyclopedia, reader's guide, and the card index.

Age Old Fued Renewed
Under the Direction of Miss Perbix, the second semester Latin classes will be divided into Romans and Carthaginians. Upon the organization of these two armies, war will be waged until one goes down to defeat. But, unlike the armies of the time of the Caesars, the battles will be fought by means of words—Latin vocabulary words, and a lively contest is in view.

Debate Privileges
"Senior Privileges" should be abolished in J. H. S. was the subject of debate at Junior-Senior debate Wednesday. Charles Rammelkamp and Celia Breeding upheld the affirmative. Ex Baxter and Betty Raub argued for the negative, and won.

The judges were Mr. Hickie, Elizabeth Graft and John Wright. Both sides put up very good arguments.

The members of the typewriting classes were very pleasantly surprised Monday when they discovered ten new Underwood Typewriters in their class room.

Lawrence Laney helped put over one of the biggest pep meetings of the year yesterday afternoon in the auditorium.

There was no stunt, only good old-fashioned yelling, and speeches by the players.

Hugh Osborne and Bob Conover, 27, made speeches concerning the team and the game tonight. Osborne captained the five last year, while Conover was one of the strongest guards ever in J. H. S.

Morris' Hornets
Beat Radio Five
In Cage Battle

Morris' Hornets defeated the Radio and Science basketball team 28 to 8 in a walkway game in the girls' gym Tuesday after school.

The Hornets won the game through their superior passing and basket hitting, and by better teamwork all around than was displayed by the Science team.

Although the Radio and Science Club quintette played a hard game from start to finish, they were hopelessly outclassed by the Hornets. Sloan was the star in the game, making enough points by himself to defeat the Science team.

He was able to dribble and shoot at will on account of the poor defense of the Science team. Cannon led the Science team in points.

From the referee's point of view, the game was clean all the way through, only two fouls being made by both teams.

The lineup was as follows: Morris' Hornets: forwards, Lushbaugh and Sloan; guards, Rammelkamp, Walker and Morris. Science Club: forwards, Duller, Sieber; guards, Cannon, Bond and Paul.

The next game on the schedule of both teams is with Troop 7, which at the present time is leading the Scout Conference of city championship.

UPPERCLASSMEN RANK
BEST IN COUNTY TEST

The English departments of the high school have been giving diagnostic tests to compare the standard of the school with the standard set by the county.

The tests were in punctuation, sentence structure, grammar, and capitalization. These tests were given at the same time all over the county, during the month of November. The results of these tests show that the freshmen and sophomores are under the standard, but the juniors and seniors are quite above the standard.

It is not unusual that the upper classes should rate above the standard in these tests, for they have had the advantage of more years in school and greater contact with teachers and people who constantly use correct speech.

NEGATIVE DEBATE TEAM PICKED FOR SPRING FORENSICS

The two debating teams under the guidance of Misses Hunter and Cusic are working hard and faithfully in preparation for the coming debates.

Miss Cusic, coach of the negative team has chosen her speakers and the one in which they will speak. They are as follows:

1st Speaker—Ethel Mae Cavett. 2nd Speaker—Robert Hartman. 3rd Speaker—Charles Watson. Alternate—Horace Griggs.

All of these debaters are new, inexperienced, and yet full of promise.

The negative will debate Lincoln sometime between March 16, and April 6. The exact date has not yet been agreed upon.

The affirmative team, composed of Weir Elliott, Louis McNeely, Edward Baxter, and William Boston is coached by Miss Hunter. Of these debaters, Louis McNeely and Edward Baxter have had experience, but the others have not

The Girl Reserve club of Jacksonville, under the supervision of the Illinois College Y. W. C. MODISH MITZI

New Frocks Mean New Lingerie

By Jay V. Jay

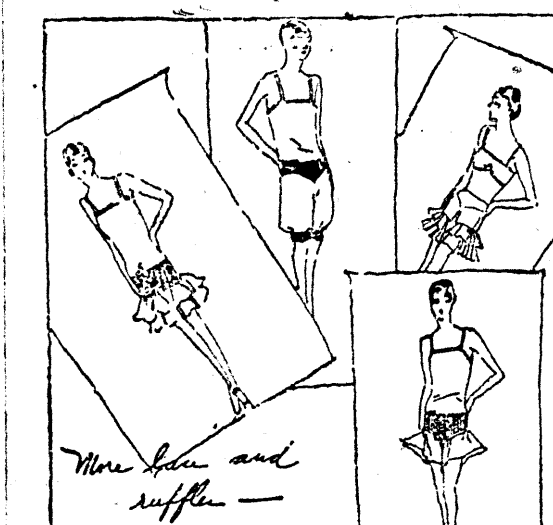

Murrayville, R. R. 3

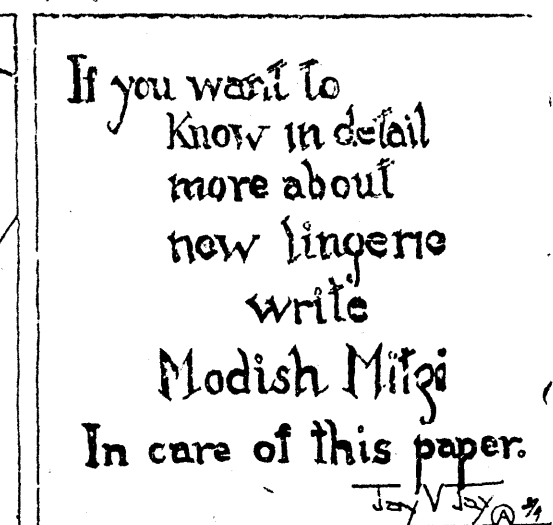

Mitzi will have her mail with her breakfast. Dozens of letters, dozens of people wanting to know about styles, Mitzi's negligee is a printed chiffon trimmed with a ruffle of metal lace around the h-m, and Mitzi doesn't know which she is going to enjoy the most—wearing her new negligee, eating her breakfast or answering her voluminous correspondence.

Fritzi is writing to ask what changes the new styles have made in underwear. Fritzi is a clever girl and knows that when the silhouettes of frocks change, the outlines of underwear do the same thing. There were a lot of inquiries about lingerie this morning and Mitzi thinks she'll write about that. It's an interesting subject just now.

New lingerie is so much frillier than it used to be. There's much more lace and there are countered numbers of ruffles and tucks and pleatings. These sketches show how underwear flares below the waist, following the new skirt line and how it is fitted trimly about the waist and hips. Lace and embroidery are usual.

In fact there is so much to be said about underwear that Mitzi is going to write a whole letter about it. There isn't space here to tell you all the clever ideas the new season has brought. If you want to know what Mitzi has to say about lingerie, write her in care of this paper enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope and her letter will be sent to you at once. She'd love to have you!

THE "CANARY" MURDER CASE

by S. S. VAN DINE, AUTHOR OF THE BENSON MURDER CASE

CHARACTERS

PHILO VANCE, District Attorney of New York County; MARGARET ODELL (THE "CANARY"), a man-about-town; KENNETH SPOTSWOOD, a manufacturer; DR. ANDRÉ LINDQUIST, a fashionable neurologist; TONY SECKEL, a professional burglar; WILLIAM ELMER JESSUP, telephone operator; HARRY SPIVLEY, telephone operator; ERNEST DEATH, Sergeant of the Homeless Bureau.

THE STORY THIS FAR

Somebody had gone out with the "Canary" the evening of the murder. When he left, he asked Jessup, on the switchboard, to call him "Mr. Odeh," and Jessup, "we heard Miss Odell scream. We ran back to her door and she called to me that everything was all right." But the next morning she was found strangled. Vance thought two men were in the room when she was murdered, one of them hiding in a clothes closet. Vance is questioned and gives an alibi. But he mentions Dr. Lindquist as a possible source of information.

CHAPTER XVII

(Tuesday, September 11, 9 p. m.) TEN minutes later we were ringing the bell of a stately old brownstone house in East 44th Street.

A resplendently comparisoned butler opened the door, and Markham presented his card.

"Take this to the doctor at once, and say that it's urgent."

"The doctor is just finishing dinner," the stately seneschal informed him; and conducted us into a richly furnished reception-room, with deep comfortable chairs, silk draperies, and brilliant lights.

"A typical synecrastic sagacity," observed Vance, looking around. "I'm sure the pasha himself is a majestic and elegant personage."

The prediction proved true. Doctor Lindquist entered the room a moment later inspecting the district attorney's card as if it had been a cuneiform inscription whose import he could not quite decipher.

He was a tall man in his late forties, with bushy hair and eyebrows, and a complexion abnormal by pale. His face was long, and despite the asymmetry of his features, he might easily have been called handsome. He was in dinner clothes and he carried himself with the self-conscious precision of a man unduly impressed with his own importance. He seated himself at a kidney-shaped desk of carved mahogany, and lifted his eyes with polite inquiry to Markham.

"To what am I indebted for the honor of this call?" he asked in a studiously melodious voice, lingering over each word carefully.

"You are most fortunate to have found me in," he added, before Markham could speak. "I confer with patients only by appointment. One felt that he experienced a certain humiliation at having received us without elaborate ceremonial preliminaries.

Markham, whose nature was opposed to all circumlocution and pretense, came direct to the point.

"This isn't a professional consultation, doctor; but it happens that I want to speak to you about one of your former patients—a Miss Margaret Odell."

Doctor Lindquist regarded the gold paper-weight before him with vacantly reminiscent eyes.

"Ah, yes, Miss Odell. I was just reading of her violent end. A most unfortunate and tragic affair."

"In just what way was she of service to you?—You understand, of course, that the relationship between a physician and his patient is one of sacred confidence."

"I understand that thoroughly,"

"In just what way was she of service to you?—You understand, of course, that the relationship between a physician and his patient is one of sacred confidence."

"I understand that thoroughly,"

Markham assured him abruptly. "On the other hand, it is the sacred duty of every citizen to assist the authorities in bringing a murderer to justice. And if there is anything you can tell me which will help toward that end, I shall certainly expect you to tell me."

The doctor raised his hand slightly. "I shall, of course, do all I can to assist you, if you will but indicate your desires."

"There's no need to beat about the bush," doctor," said Markham. "I know that Miss Odell was a patient of yours for a long time; and I realize that it is highly probable, not to say probable, that she told you certain personal things which may have direct bearing on her death."

"But, my dear Mr. —," Doctor Lindquist glanced ostentatiously at the card—"ah—Markham, my relations with Miss Odell were of a purely professional character."

"I had understood, however," ventured Markham, "that, while what you say may be technically true, nevertheless there was an informality, let me say, in that relationship. Perhaps I may state it better by saying that your professional attitude transcended a merely scientific interest in her case."

I heard Vance chuckle softly; and I myself could hardly suppress a smile at Markham's verbose and oblique accusation. But Doctor Lindquist, it seemed, was in no wise disconcerted. Assuming an air of beguiling pensiveness, he said:

"I will confess, in the interests of strict accuracy, that during my somewhat protracted treatment of her case, I came to regard the young woman with a certain—shall I say, fatherly liking? But I doubt if she was even aware of this mild sentiment on my part."

The corners of Vance's mouth twitched slightly. He was sitting with drooping eyes, watching the doctor with a look of studious amusement.

"And she never at any time told you of any private or personal affairs that were causing her anxiety?" persisted Markham.

Doctor Lindquist pyramided his fingers, and appeared to give the question his undivided thought.

"No, I can't recall a single statement of that nature." His words were measured and urbane. "I know, naturally, in a general way, her manner of living; but the details, you will readily perceive, were wholly outside my province as a medical consultant. The disorganization of her nerves was due—so my diagnosis led me to conclude—to late hours, excitement, irregular and rich eating—what, I believe, is referred to vulgarly as going the pace. The modern woman, in this febrile age, sir—"

"When did you see her last, may I ask?" Markham interrupted impatiently.

The doctor made a pantomime of elusive surprise.

"When did I see her last? . . . Let me see." He could, apparently, recall the occasion only with considerable difficulty. "A fortnight ago, perhaps—though it may have been longer. I really can't recall. . . . Shall I refer to my files?"

"That won't be necessary," said Markham. He paused, and regarded the doctor with a look of disarming affability. "And was this last visit a paternal or merely a professional one?"

"Professional, of course," Doctor Lindquist's eyes were impassive and only mildly interested; but his face, I felt, was by no means the unadmitted reflection of his thoughts.

"Did the meeting take place here or at her apartment?"

"I understand that thoroughly,"

ROTARIANS ENTERTAIN JACKSONVILLE NEWSIES

Boys Enjoy Luncheon With Clubmen Friday—Dr. John M. Stevenson Is Speaker.

More than 150 men and boys sat at the banquet table at the Peacock Inn yesterday noon, when the newsboys of Jacksonville were guests of the Jacksonville Rotary club. Rev. J. McGowan Stevenson, pastor of the State Street Presbyterian church, was the speaker for the occasion.

The boys assembled in the blue room of the Peacock Inn at noon and as the Rotarians arrived they each took a boy and went to the second floor of the Inn where the banquet was held. After the dinner each of the boys was presented with a note book which bore in gold letters on the cover, "Jacksonville Rotary Club Newsboys' Day, 1928." These books were distributed by members of the boys work committee, after Chairman A. D. Hermann had made a brief talk to the boys.

The program opened with a short talk by Dr. Anthony B. Day of St. Louis, who spoke on the fact that is being made against child labor.

President Sam Clark of the Rotary club then delivered a brief address of welcome to the newsies. Homer Mitchell in well chosen words, made the response for the boys. Marvin Beely, also a newsboy, spoke thanking the club members for their dinner and for the note books.

Rev. Mr. Stevenson was then introduced and outlined to the boys what he considered the essentials that would mean success for them. He said that there are some boys who use their heads and not their hands and some who use their hands and not their heads. He advised the boys that they must learn to use their heads and hands at the same time if they wish to be successful. He urged the youths not to be dreamers, for if they wished to get somewhere they should make a definite start. He said that they should always choose the hard way, as generally the easy way did not take a man to a worthwhile goal.

He told the boys to be honest, upright and truthful and above all industrious.

The meeting was one of the most enthusiastic held by the Rotarians during the present year.

James Cunningham, aged 80 years, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. F. Koss, three miles east of Jacksonville, at 1:30 o'clock, Friday morning, February 3, following an illness of six weeks.

The decedent was born in Cookstown, Ireland, May 1, 1848, the youngest son of Dr. and Mrs. John Cunningham. He came to this country at the age of 16 years and located near Alexander, Ill. After a few years he became a resident of Jacksonville, where he was engaged as engineer in the Morgan mills for a number of years.

On December 2, 1880 he was united in marriage with Miss Mary Cobb. In 1895 because of ill health Mr. Cunningham again took up his residence in the country on a farm near Orleans, where he resided until 18 months ago, when he and his wife went to make their home with their daughter.

Mr. Cunningham was for 25 years a member of the Pisgah Presbyterian church which he regularly attended as long as health permitted. He was for 16 years a valued member of the session, having for the first nine years served faithfully as ruling elder.

He had the remarkable record of having attended services in the three church homes of the Pisgah Presbyterian congregation. Mr. Cunningham was for 52 years a member of the Masonic order, and for 48 years a Knight Templar of the Hospitalier Commandery, being at his death the oldest membership of age in the Jacksonville Commandery.

He is survived by his wife and daughter, two grandchildren, Margaret and Eleanor Koss.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the State Street Presbyterian church, with the pastor, Rev. John McGowan Stevenson in charge. The Masons will have charge of the services at the Diamond Grove cemetery.

H. S. CAFETERIA SERVES 125 STUDENTS DAILY

Much Food Consumed By Hungry Persons At Local High School Each Day.

The Jacksonville high school cafeteria, instituted for the purpose of providing food for students at the noon hour, is now serving an average of 125 students and teachers daily, according to Miss Alice Larimore, instructor of home economics in the school, who is in charge of the entire establishment.

Miss Larimore, has full charge of the cafeteria and has working under her, two cooks and twelve student helpers. She plans all of the menus and attends to all of the buying and supervising, both in the kitchen and in the dining room.

In one day, approximately a bushel of potatoes is consumed, in addition to ten pies, six cakes, ten pans of rolls, and four loaves of bread, all stowed away by the hungry students and teachers who come hastening down to the cafeteria at the end of the fourth period, all anxious to obtain the best place in the long line of patiently waiting individuals.

Miss Larimore states that the number of people eating depends largely upon the weather. On Tuesdays there is always a longer line, because of the fact that the Glee club meets that noon. She said that there were approximately 15 who ate there regularly, but on some days there have been as many as 230.

The Board of Education furnishes the room, gas, electricity, and equipment. At the end of each semester, about $500 is turned over to the Board by Miss Larimore for expenses. Between $35 and $50 is taken in every day.

Each day the average amount of candy sold amounts to $18. The most popular kinds of candy are mints and tootsie rolls.

The cafeteria seats 200 people at one time.

The kitchen contains excellent equipment consisting of three gas ranges, an immense refrigerator and a large electric dishwasher.

While the cafeteria is not run for the sake of the profit which can be gained from it, Miss Larimore, is nevertheless, making some headway which will probably go for better equipment.

RECOVER LOOT STOLEN FROM EMPORIUM

With the recovery of loot stolen from the Emporium on East State street early Friday morning, police were still making an investigation of the case to try and determine whether Jackie Blue, held at the station charged with the theft, had an accomplice.

The loot was discovered by a small boy in an alley near the Moore and Sumpter garage on East Douglas avenue. The suit case found by the lad contained several men's shirts, children's clothing, women's hosiery and several other articles of ladies' wearing apparel. The total value of the stolen goods was placed at $103 by Edward Goldstein proprietor of the Emporium.

Blue was arrested when he was found in the center display window corridor of the Emporium. A passerby heard the crashing of glass and called to Night Merchants' Policeman J. E. Sweeney, who was nearby. Sweeney made an investigation and found Blue in the corridor.

Members of the police force arrived on the scene shortly afterward and placed Blue under arrest.

Blue maintains that he was intoxicated and does not remember anything about his activities in the vicinity of the Emporium. Altho the officers found that a glass in the door had been broken out and one of the large windows smashed, Blue claims he has no knowledge of the deed.

Police are working on the theory that Blue had an accomplice and are checking up on his activities during the evening.

Clifton Galloway, was placed under $1,000 bond by Justice A. B. Opperman yesterday afternoon when he waived preliminary hearing on a charge of burglary and larceny, preferred against him by N. E. Bentley, proprietor of the Rent-A-Pord garage on North Main street.

Galloway is alleged to have entered the garage while Mr. Bentley was absent about 1 o'clock Friday morning. Bentley had gone to a hotel to take a customer who had just returned a car to the garage. When he returned he saw a man in the office removing money from the cash register. As he approached the office the man dashed out the office door to the rear of the building and jumping out a window ran east on East Douglas avenue. Bentley pursued the man who turned north in Mauvalsterre street. Bentley was gaining ground on the fleeing youth when he stumbled and fell.

Bentley reported the matter to the police and Galloway was placed under arrest by the police shortly afterward at his home.

According to police Galloway took the officers to the place where he had hidden the money and made a confession of the theft of the money.

PLAN SOLICITATION OF FUNDS FOR FACTORY

Chamber of Commerce Committee Begin Campaign For Establishment of Cloverleaf Jacket Company Here.

It was decided at a meeting of the Industrial and Commercial committees, held at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday to start soliciting for funds that will make possible the bringing of the Cloverleaf Jacket company of St. Louis to this city. Yesterday afternoon several members of the committees collected business men in the downtown district and will continue their efforts until the amount needed is raised.

It was the consensus at the meeting yesterday that Jacksonville needs factories to provide employment for its residents. It was brought out at the meeting that there are now several vacant houses in Jacksonville and that in order to keep Jacksonville in a prosperous condition employment must be furnished its residents.

The solicitors who are working to raise the money to bring the new industry to Jacksonville, deserve much credit for their work. These men are taking time from their business in order to do worthwhile work for the city.

The Cloverleaf Jacket company employs about 60 people. Some of their skilled help will be brought with them from St. Louis, if the factory is located here.

If the plant is moved to this city it is proposed to house it in the building on North Main street, known as the Cherry Annex, but now owned by George Lukeman. Mr. Lukeman has agreed to rebuild the building to make it suitable for the new business.

John Beck, Jr., president of the Cloverleaf Jacket company was in Jacksonville recently and made a favorable impression on the several business men who had the pleasure to meet him. His company is incorporated and has a good standing in St. Louis, the reason for moving from St. Louis is that they desire to locate in a smaller community.
